

WISCONSIN IS A TAFT STATE

This Is The Announcement Given Out In Milwaukee By State Chairman Edmonds.

USUAL BIG REPUBLICAN MAJORITY

Every Indication Is That The Total Vote Will Be Way Up In Badgerdom This Fall For Taft And Sherman And Republican State Ticket.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21.—That William H. Taft will carry Wisconsin by a large majority is now apparent to all who are in touch at all with the state political situation. Not only will Taft be victorious, but also the entire republican state ticket and in all probability all but one of the republican candidates for congress and a chance is left to defeat Wiesner, the democratic member from the sixth.

It was a love feast that took place in state chairman Edmonds' rooms yesterday. County chairmen and their secretaries were assembled to make report on the campaign and hear the methods used for getting out the election day vote. The gathering was behind closed doors but enough trickled through the keyhole to tell the listener that the optimistic reports of the men present were most gratifying to the state chairman.

The closing days of the campaign promise to be most strenuous. There is to be no relaxation until after November 3 and the arrangements for speakers includes the arrival in the state of some of the most prominent spell-binders in the country. Also the speakers of prominence in the state are also being called into service and sent hither and yon in answer to calls from county chairmen.

Mr. Edmonds two weeks ago issued invitations to prominent republicans all over the state to aid in the work. Ogen H. Fether, M. G. Jeffris and John M. Whitehead of Janesville, being among those invited. He had a ready reply to the majority of his requests and has at his disposal some of the best speakers of the state for rallies in different cities and large towns.

Davidson, is still on the stump and making friends every day and votes for Taft his address has hit the popular cord and he is enthusiastically received. Senator La Follette is also busy with an itinerary of his own calling on support for the Taft ticket. Secretary of state Freer and others of the state ticket are also doing their share of the heavy work.

FOND DU LAC WANTS SOME INFORMATION

FINDS TROUBLE IN ORDINANCES NOT PASSED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL BUT SUPPOSED TO BE.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Oct. 21.—A question has been raised as to whether the city ordinances which have been prepared in book form were passed by the common council. This morning it was learned that the ordinance prohibiting fortune-tellers from conducting their business in the city, which was supposed to have been passed in May, 1904, had never been adopted. The records of the common council show that the ordinance was referred to a committee but the committee never reported. An investigation will be made to determine whether the city is running with or without laws.

ACCUSED BY DISPATCH BRYAN DELIVERS VIGOROUS SPEECH IN OHIO THIS MORNING.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Newark, Ohio, Oct. 21.—Thoroughly aroused by what he termed "the influence" through the publication of the day before of dispatch stating that the officials of the New York Central lines had summoned their workmen and informed them that if the democrats won the election there would be a ten per cent reduction in wages, but if they lost there would be an increase, W. J. Bryan in a before-breakfast speech to a vast throng poured a volley of criticism into the republican party for its campaign tactics. He threw into his utterances all the vigor he could muster up and his words were greeted with loud cheers.

TREFAELGAR DAY IN CITY OF LONDON

PUBLIC DECORATED NELSON COLUMN IN HONOR OF GREAT BRITISH ADMIRAL.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, Oct. 21.—In pursuance of a long-standing custom London today held its usual observance of the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar. For many years past the Navy League has endeavored, by placing decorations upon the Nelson column in Trafalgar Square, to honor the memory of the great admiral. This yearly function involved a considerable expenditure of money, so this year the League appealed to the public for funds to decorate the column. The public responded generously with the result that the base of the monument was almost hidden beneath a wealth of handsome wreaths and other tributes.

What Will He Do?

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 21.—It was announced here today that Senator La Follette would speak at Whitehall this evening, and members of the Elkhorn faction of the county openly claim that the senator will declare in favor of the election of Elkhorn, independent candidate for the assembly, but friends of Albert P. Twesme, regular republican candidate, refuse to credit the statement.

Senator La Follette addressed a large audience at Viroqua today and urged his hearers to vote for Taft for the presidency. He will be the orator here tonight and a large rally is expected.

PROHIBITION PARTY IS ACTIVE IN THE CAMPAIGN

Are Hampered By Lack Of Funds In Carrying Out Their Campaign Plans.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—When the returns of the general election are read two weeks from today the Prohibition party leaders will be mightily surprised as well as disappointed if the figures fail to show great gains for their cause from one end of the country to the other. The campaign that is being directed from the Prohibition national headquarters in this city is by far the most active and extensive in the history of the party. It is an interesting fact that, while the committees of both the republican and democratic parties have been hampered during the present campaign by lack of funds, the prohibition campaign fund has been as large and perhaps a little larger than in former years. This is easily understood when it is borne in mind that the prohibitionists as well as always had to depend upon contributions from individuals and not corporations and men of great wealth. At the same time the prohibition campaign committee declares itself in need of more funds. This is illustrated by the recent statement of Eugene W. Chafee, thin candidate for president, that if the prohibitionists had $100,000 to spend they could carry the state of Georgia in the presidential election.

The activity of the prohibitionists in the national campaign has found a reflection in many states and it is predicted that in some of them the prohibition ticket will cut quite a figure in the result of the election for state officials. The prohibitionists have named tickets in more than half of the states where state officers are to be elected week after next. A list given out at the headquarters here today shows the prohibition candidates for governor as follows:

Colorado, Rev. H. L. Murray, Longmont; Connecticut, Matthew E. O'Brien, Bridgeport; Idaho, W. C. Shattock, Caldwell; Illinois, Dan R. Sheen, Peoria; Indiana, Sumner W. Haynes, Portland; Iowa, Karl W. Brown, Ames; Kansas, Rev. Albert L. Hope, Abilene; Maine, James H. Ames, Bowdoinham; Massachusetts, Willard O. Wyllie, Beverly; Michigan, John W. Gray, Adrian; Minnesota, Dr. George D. Haggard, Minneapolis; Missouri, H. P. Curtis, Clinton; Nebraska, Roy B. Teeter, Falls City; New Hampshire, Roy E. Tatley; New York, Dr. George G. Stockwell, Utica; Ohio, J. D. Martin, Chillicothe; Rhode Island, Louis E. Remington, Providence; South Dakota, G. E. Knappin; Texas, Judge E. C. Heath, Rockwall; Washington, A. C. Caton, Olympia; West Virginia, E. W. Miles, Fairmount; Wisconsin, W. D. Cox, Milwaukee.

SOX PLAYED HORSE WITH BELOIT TEAM

Game Was Big Disappointment to Fans Who Gathered at Yost's Park Yesterday.

Because of the shunts of Nick Altrock, the clown of the American League, about three thousand fans enjoyed the game at Yost's park yesterday between the Chicago White Sox and the Beloit Trolley League team. The game was very one-sided, the final score being 9 to 2, Beloit winning in two runs in the last half of the ninth. In the last of the second the White Sox brought in five runs on one hit by Perrin's two runs, one run in the fifth and three more in the sixth.

Smith left the box in the sixth and in response to the calls from the bleachers Altrock was put in and pitched for two innings. White went in and finished the game. The Trolley Leaguers were no match for their opponents and though the Beloit team got eleven hits and the Sox only seven, the Americans played horse with the Line-O-City nine. The Sox played an atrocious game, while the Beloit team made five errors.

Atkins, formerly of Beloit College, pitched a splendid game and brought in one of the two Beloit tallies.

WHY Men Don't Marry.

When a married man wants a mess of turkey it costs him at least two dollars and a half, considering the price of the bird, the cost of the oysters to stuff it, and the cranberry sauce. Besides, he has to carve it. But an unmarried man can go to a restaurant and get all the turkey he wants for 15 cents.—Athenaeum.

AUSTRIA ANGERS SERVIAN PEOPLE

ENVY FROM MONTENEGRO IS ARRESTED AT AGRAM.

SEARCHED AND RELEASED

France Again Grows Nervous Over the Balkan Situation—Germany
Said to Be Urging Turks to War.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 21.—Gen. Vukotich, an official of the Montenegro government, who left Cattolino Monday for this city on a special mission to the Servian government, arrived here Tuesday noon, after an extraordinary experience at Agram, where he was arrested by Austro-Hungarian officials and detained for several hours.

In an interview the general said: "On my arrival at Agram gendarmes entered my car, dragged me out and took me to the prefecture of police. I was then searched, and my purse, papers, in fact everything I had, was taken from me. My baggage also was completely ransacked. I gave the gendarmerie officials my name and explained my status as a special envoy to King Peter. I showed about the passport and safe conduct given me at the Austro-Hungarian legation at Cattolino, but all to no avail."

"Ultimately I was permitted to send a telegram to Baron von Aszkenzthal, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, complaining of the treatment accorded me which was violation of international usage. After considerable delay an order arrived from Vienna instructing the police to release me, and this was done."

Servian People Excited.

This occurrence has aroused again a bitter feeling toward Austria-Hungary on the part of the Servians, and the people are greatly excited.

The general is the hero of the moment in Belgrade. A great crowd of students and others gathered in front of his hotel and when the general entered his carriage to drive to the palace the students unhesitatingly the horses and dragged the vehicle through the streets themselves. Meanwhile the mob shouted its approval of King Peter and Prince Nicholas and cursed Austria.

France Becomes Anxious.

Paris, Oct. 21.—The feeling in French government circles is distinctly nervous, both with regard to the situation in the Balkans and the proposed international congress. Official advices from Turkey indicate that the Turkish government is manifesting some impatience because Bulgaria has failed to present any official communication since Turkey received the French assurance made in the name of the emperor, Ferdinand, while from Sofia comes the information that the Malinoff cabinet still refuses to accept the advice of Ferdinand, who advocates a peaceful settlement, and insists that it would be preferable to go to war than to pay an indemnity.

Until the Bulgarian ministry yields definitely, it is considered by the officials of the French government that the danger of war has not been dispelled.

In Germany Urging War?

Reports current in Paris that Baron von Bleibergstein, the German ambassador at Constantinople, has been counseled war at that city, while not confirmed, caused disquietude, especially as Germany's attitude grows more and more antagonistic.

It is not unnatural that such reports should find easy credence here where the belief is now general that Germany and Austria-Hungary are joining hands in an effort to persuade Turkey to settle the issues with regard to the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the declaration of Bulgaria's independence directly with Austria and Bulgaria respectively, thus avoiding the necessity of an international congress.

Rumor of Battle at Djuman.

London, Oct. 21.—A dispatch to a news agency from Athens reports an engagement between Turkish and Bulgarian troops at Djuman on the frontier. According to this report 70 Bulgarians and ten Turks were killed. There is no confirmation of this from any source.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 21.—While James Briskins, a lad 17 years of age, was canoeing at the mouth of the Lehigh river Tuesday afternoon their craft was upset. The Briskins boy was drowned, but, the other lad was rescued by Prof. W. T. Lytle of Lafayette college.

Negro Murderer Is to Hang.

Libel Petition Asking $600,000 Damages of Hearst Is Hit In Opinion of Lawyers.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 21.—The $600,000 libel suit which Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma filed in this city last week against William Randolph Hearst is pronounced invalid by prominent attorneys who have examined the petition.

It is pointed out that the laws of Nebraska allow no punitive damages in a libel suit, and $300,000 of the amount asked in the present case is punitive.

It also is pointed out that the petition is not accompanied by an affidavit of either Gov. Haskell or his attorney, as is required by the laws of this state.

Under the Nebraska statutes the suit, it is stated, has no standing in court until this is accomplished.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 21.—"I think my lawyers are better than the lawyers who pronounced that opinion," declared Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, when shown a dispatch from Omaha stating that his libel suit against W. H. Hearst had been declared invalid by prominent Nebraska attorneys.

"I think I have the best lawyers up there, and their opinion is better than anybody else." Their opinion is that my suit against Hearst is not invalid. Lawyers can be found who will express an opinion that anything is constitutional and they are all prominent attorneys when their views are printed."

CRACKSMEN ROB BANK.

Vault Dynamited and People of Hurst, Ill., Hold at Bay.

Murphysboro, Ill., Oct. 21.—The bank at Hurst, Ill., a small town east of here in Williamson county, was robbed by safe blowers who got $1,500.

The explosion in the bank building awoke citizens in the neighborhood, some of whom fired at the robbers from windows. Three of the marauders returned the fire and kept the citizens under cover until their companion had completed the looting of the safe. Then they fled.

Brothers Kill Each Other.

Cranberry, W. Va., Oct. 21.—Two brothers who Tuesday engaged in a dispute over the distribution of the large estate left by their father, are dead, each having inflicted a wound upon the other which proved fatal. They were Joseph and Thomas Mattingly, aged 38 and 35 years.

Cholera on an Army Transport.

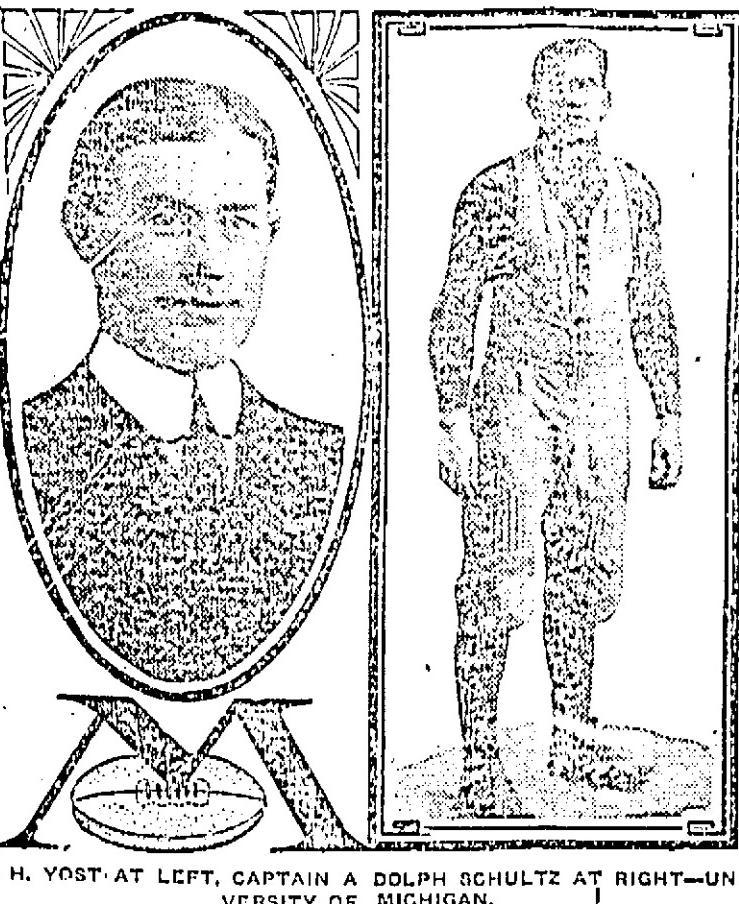

Nagasaki, Oct. 21.—The United States army transport Buford, which sailed from Manila October 15 en route to San Francisco, has been detained here on account of the death of a sailor on board from cholera. Another case has been developed but the patient is recovering.

Mortal Needs in Small Compass.

There are blocks in New York city that contain all that a mortal needs from the cradle to the grave. Such is the block between Hester and Grand streets and Essex and Norfolk streets, where there is the physician, butcher, baker, clothier, school, preacher, undertaker.

In Burns' Land.

The "Auld Brig," over which Tam o' Shanter fled when his mare lost her tail, is no longer used, but is protected as a sacred historical relic. A new bridge has been built a few yards above it over the "Penny Doun."

Women's and Misses' Interlined Suits

In a Variety of Exclusive Models

This was the heading used by one of the STATE STREET STORES in a recent ad. which called particular attention to the interlining of their suits. The same idea was made a feature by another State Street store earlier in the week in their advertising.

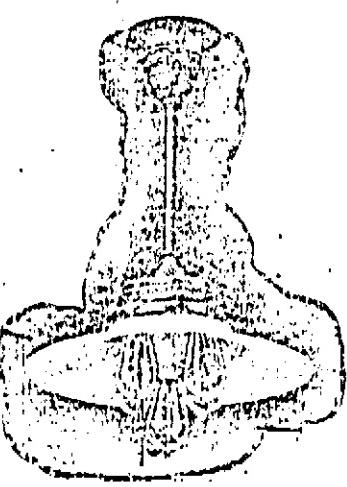

Interlined suits have been a feature of this department for the past three seasons and we simply note the above facts to show people that it is not necessary to go to the city when all that is desirable in the suit line can be found right at home.

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS

Owing To The Fact That The Date Previously Chosen For Closing This Contest Falls On the Eve
Of the Presidential Election, We Have Decided to Postpone the Close Five Days, Making the Finish Come on Saturday, Nov. 7th, At 10 O'clock P. M.

Mrs. C. G. Miller Leads All Ladies In Either District. Mrs. Emma Malbon Assumes The Lead In The City. Miss Myra Lyons

Jumps From Tentil Place To Third In Her District. Voting Becoming Heavy.

All names of candidates must be in by tonight to be eligible to compete. The contest is just entering into the second quarter. The real race is still to come.

The last lap of the race is always the most interesting. Nobody cares much for the preliminary easier. It helps to give a title on the condition and fitness of the various entrants but the real test comes in the driving finish, when the real game qualities are brought to the front.

A "live" candidate doesn't hesitate a moment about entering the race at this time. The vote piled up by some of the leaders does not appear appealing by any means. Those who are low in the race and have been making plans carefully, can jump to the top in a few days of patient, consistent and intelligent work. As a matter of fact, the closing period of the contest is really the great opportunity.

This week will be devoted to securing as many bonuses as possible by the harder working and wiser candidates. From now on it will be a race animated largely by the desire to be ahead of some particular candidate.

With the closing of this week of the great European tour and diamond contest but two weeks more remain. However, they bid fair to be about the warmest two weeks the various contestants have ever experienced.

THIS WEEK'S BONUS VOTE OFFER

A Certificate for 8,000 votes will be given with every "club" of five yearly subscriptions, either "old" or "new," and 4,000 votes with every "club" of five six months' subscriptions, either old or new, turned in by next Monday, Oct. 26th, at 8 P. M. Two "new" weekly subscriptions for one year will count as one. Daily in making up a "club." This bonus vote is given in addition to the regular certificate of votes issued on each payment of a subscription. Don't fail to get a club or two this week.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Presented in Simplified Form for the Consideration of Wisconsin Voters Prior to Election Day.

Art. 5. Allowing the governor six days instead of three in which to approve acts passed by the legislature.

Art. 6. Permitting the state to appropriate money for the construction or improvement of public highways.

Art. 3. Providing that none but a fully naturalized citizen of the United States may vote after December 1, 1912. Now a newcomer votes after a residence of one year, and a mere declaration of his intention to become a citizen.

Art. 10. Raising the minimum school age to six years from four.

Art. 4. Abolishing the state census. Uncle Sam's is enough.

BLOOD ON HIS HANDS

Mr. Bryan, in one of his campaign speeches, attacked Governor Hughes as the man whose hands are red with the blood of the two-cent rate bill.

says the Wall Street Journal.

"The veto of the two-cent rate bill is one of the bravest things that Governor Hughes has done. It was comparatively easy to investigate the insurance companies and to establish the public service commission. It was a popular thing to assault race-track gambling and to arouse the enmity of petty republican boosters.

"But in these days, when the broad and easy road to political popularity lies in the direction of fighting the corporations, it was a brave thing for Governor Hughes, by the employment of his veto power, to do what he deemed a just thing for the railroads of the state."

"Mr. Bryan seems to regard the question of whether the railroads shall charge two cents a mile for their passenger service as a moral issue, as vital as the issue of human slavery was a half century ago. He speaks of Governor Hughes almost as if he had committed murder and describes the hands that vetoed the two-cent fare bill as red with blood.

"Yet the question of two-cent fares is purely a business question, to be settled in a common sense business way. Mr. Bryan, however, does not comprehend business and has no sympathy with it. He does not take into consideration in criticizing Governor Hughes, whether the railroads could afford to carry passengers for two cents a mile or not, or whether the establishment of an equitable rate of fare had not better be left to the determination of a public commission than to that of a state law. What he sees is that two-cent fares are popular with a certain class of people, and, therefore, he advocates them. That is the difference between him and Governor Hughes."

The two-cent fare bill was the popular panacea for all ills, and the man who opposed it was considered an enemy to the people. Governor Hughes possessed the courage of conviction, and it would have been well for the country had more public servants been blessed with the same sort of common sense and courage.

The railroads of the country are the most important industrial factor in it, yet they have become a byword in the minds of many people. It is time to call a halt and give these important corporations time to recover.

FIVE THOUSAND A YEAR!

Eugene Wood, writing in Wisconsin's Magazine, asks his readers how they would like to have a steady job at about $5,000 a year, hours on the average, three a day, and the rest of the time to themselves, to do as they pleased, with salary to go on while they are sick and a pension when they get too old to work," an exchange in commenting says.

"Mr. Wood not only asks this question, but he answers it. He says that the way to obtain such a job as this is to make application by taking a black lead pencil and making a neat cross right in the circle underneath the voting emblem of the socialist party. Of course he qualifies his answer by saying that they may not be able to get this job at this election, but they are sure to in the near future if they will only just keep on putting in their application and getting others to do the same.

"This then is the socialist ideal: Everybody to have a $5,000-a-year job, working only three hours a day. "What an awful calamity for the world it would be if everybody in it had only three hours in which to work and twenty-one hours in which to do as they pleased! There is an old adage to the effect that it is the devil that finds occupation for idle hands." This is the sort of rubbish which appeals to shallow-brained people and makes socialism popular. The notion is entertained that the only man who works is the man who invests nothing but muscle, and that his workday should be shortened to three hours and wages increased to $5,000 a year. Who is to furnish the work, or where the pay roll is to come from is not a matter of concern. The proposition is too silly to discuss.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

The National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education was organized at a meeting held at Cooper Union, New York, on November 16, 1906.

It now has a thousand active members scattered throughout the United States. State branches have been organized in Georgia, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, and branches in Rhode Island, Virginia, Alabama, Ohio and Connecticut are in course of formation. These branch societies have their own constitutions and officers and carry on independent work, but the members also have the privileges of membership in the national society and receive its publications. State committees have been organized in thirty states, and as they increase in size, will become branch societies. At the meeting of the state committees at the Chicago convention representatives from seventeen states were present.

The second annual convention of the society will be held at Atlanta, Georgia, November 18 to 21, 1908, and L. D. Harvey of Wisconsin, superintendent of schools at Menomonie, and president of the National Educational Association, is on the program.

Mr. Harvey will discuss "Industrial Education in the Public Schools," and no educator in the land is more competent to handle the question intelligently, for he has been closely connected with the Stout Training School at Menomonie, and has always advocated a more practical course of study in the public schools.

It is gratifying to know that 1,000 educators are now working together along lines which mean so much to the great army of young people who graduate from the grades, and go out into life so poorly equipped that many of them become drifters.

This army represents 95 per cent of the pupils enrolled in the public schools, and fully 80 per cent of them will become industrial workers during the next ten years.

They are entitled to the benefits of industrial training, not only because of the useful knowledge which may be acquired, but because of the important fact that in this training the boy and girl develop "the bent of genius," and is better prepared to select the channel for life work. It is a move in the right direction, and entitled to every encouragement.

The manner in which Hearst secured his letters from the Standard Oil Co. may be called shrewd journalism, but there ought to be a law providing punishment for that sort of dastardly crime. While political parties may profit or suffer, when the heat of the campaign is over, public sentiment is one of the bravest things that Governor Hughes has done. It was comparatively easy to investigate the insurance companies and to establish the public service commission. It was a popular thing to assault race-track gambling and to arouse the enmity of petty republican boosters.

"But in these days, when the broad and easy road to political popularity lies in the direction of fighting the corporations, it was a brave thing for Governor Hughes, by the employment of his veto power, to do what he deemed a just thing for the railroads of the state."

CLEAN YOUR TEETH

It is really a matter of your own good. Teeth should be cleaned after every meal with water and brush at least, and before retiring some good dental powder should be used.

Let me tell you the reason for this: The temperature inside of your mouth is 98½ degrees.

You know that always after eating, there are particles of food left in between the teeth and cavities.

Just imagine how long vegetable matter would keep from rotting if laid in the sun on a moist day in 98 degrees of heat.

Not long, would it?

Yet this same condition exists in your mouth all the time.

Your teeth should be in perfect order, and always kept clean, if you wish to keep them long.

Calls in at my office any day, and let me look at your mouth, and tell you the condition of your teeth. You need not feel obliged to have the work done at once.

NEW RAILS BEING LAID ON OLD TRACK

Old Rails and Ties on Main Track of North-Western Road Being Torn Out and New Ones Put Down.

Three crew of about 45 men in all started at work today tearing out the track and ties from the Evansville cut to the south end of the yards. New tracks and ties will replace those which are somewhat worn and unfit for use. Another gang were preparing to move over the main track at the passenger depot 18 inches. As the cement curbing has not yet been finished, only a part of the track will be set over. The rest will be done when the curbing is ready, as the ties of the track will strike against the edges of the curb. As soon as the cement work is finished, the company will send in the sand and the brick and the new platform will be laid at once.

The Ideal Listener.

An attentive listener is a joy, but an inattentive one is a trial to the soul. Listen with your eyes, your whole face, your heart and your mind, and you will achieve a triumph. Look directly at the person talking to you and never allow your gaze to be deflected to other things which may be happening about you, for this at once shows lack of genuine interest in what is being said to you, and naturally gives offense.

When the diplomats of the various countries with their various customs and social distinctions appear at her reception, Miss Roosevelt will know exactly what to say and what not to say to each. MISS ETHEL ROOSEVELT, WHO MAKES HER DEBUT IN WASHINGTON SOCIETY THIS FALL.

Critics may storm at the door of the strenuous president of the United States, but his second daughter, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, finds few critics, for she is universally beloved. Possessed of a fund of staple, old-fashioned common sense, combined with good looks and many accomplishments, this new favorite of Washington society is most popular. Miss Ethel is only a little past 17 years of age, which is, indeed, young for a Washington belle to make her bow to society. Even the modest Miss Roosevelt, however, cannot bring herself to forego the honor and social distinction of holding sway over Washington's younger set for one season. She realizes fully this will be her last opportunity to do this from the White house and has decided to make the best of her exceptional opportunity.

To be the leader of Washington society is an honor which Miss Roosevelt

CANDIDATE'S WIFE ALSO GIVEN A ROUBING RECEPTION.

DEMOCRATIC FUND GROWS

Tammany's Gift of $10,000 Announced.—Judge Taft Will Tour Indiana—Well Received In West Virginia.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 21.—The tour Tuesday of William J. Bryan through Indiana was a notable one. Accustomed though he is to large crowds and lusty cheers, the demonstration accorded him were commensurate upon the candidate as being exceedingly gratifying.

A pleasing feature of the trip was the repeated calls for Mrs. Bryan, who shared in the handshaking with her husband. She was overwhelmed with attention at every place where a stop was made, and was the recipient of many bouquets and floral pieces.

The Democratic candidate, although he had but six hours' sleep, appeared fresh and strong when he delivered his first of 16 speeches of the day at Hammond, at 7:30 o'clock. His voice was in splendid shape and he commanded the strict attention of his many audiences. His favorite themes were the planks of the Democratic platform relating to labor, the majority of bank deposits and the publicity of campaign contributions.

More Money for Democrats.

New York, Oct. 21.—The Democratic national committee announced Tuesday night the list of campaign contributions that were received at New York headquarters on October 17 and 18. Treasurer Rutherford stated that the campaign funds, now amount to about $300,000. The following is the list made public:

October 17—Tammany Hall, $10,000; a contribution from Pennsylvania, $200; Senator C. A. Culbertson of Texas, $150, and Thomas-Democrat, Louisiana, $12.

October 18—Richard Croker of Dublin, Ireland, $1,000; Herman A. Metz of Brooklyn, and Ben H. Old of South Carolina, $500 each; William J. Gaynor of Brooklyn, William Ryan, S. K. Pendleton and Leon M. Adler all of New York; E. F. Giberson of Indiana, and Daily Progress, Virginia, $100 each.

Taft Going Into Indiana.

New York, Oct. 21.—Mr. Taft will leave Cincinnati Wednesday night and begin at once a tour of Indiana. On his return from New York he will close the campaign in a speech at Youngstown, O., Monday night, November 2.

The impression that the Republican national committee has virtually taken charge of the campaign in Ohio is erroneous. The impression doubtless grew out of the statement made by Chairman Hitchcock that the national committee had arranged to send a number of eminent speakers into the state. The national committee has done this after a full understanding with the state committee in Ohio. So the matter was explained at Republican national headquarters Tuesday.

Tour of West Virginia.
Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 21.—Taft day in West Virginia has been the Republican political event of the present campaign in the state. Judge Taft traversed its entire length Tuesday from Martinsburg to Parkersburg, and wherever he stopped he was the feature of a demonstration, in each instance carefully planned and which brought together many voters.

Special trains were run to many of the towns in which the candidate spoke, thus making his presence available to residents from many parts of the state not visited.

STEAMER BURNS AT PIER.

Four Colored Waiters Are Believed to Have Perished.

Newburgh, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Four members of the steamer New York, of the Hudson River Day Line, are believed to have lost their lives in a fire that entirely destroyed the large passenger vessel as she was moored to a pier for repairs in the Thomas S. Marvel shipyards here.

The fire started early Wednesday while the crew of 73 men, including Capt. A. H. Harcourt, were asleep in their berths. Soon after the crew had reached the shore it was discovered that four colored waiters were missing.

he was able to stand his loss without seeking aid.

"Anyway," said Gerald in a muffled voice, "I've learned one lesson—that a business man can't acquire the habits and keep the infernal hours that suit people who can take all day to sleep it off."

"Right," said Selwyn.

"Besides, my income can't stand it," added Gerald naively.

"Neither could mine, old fellow. And, Gerald, cut out this card busitess. It's the final refuge of the feeble minded. You like it? Oh, well, if you've got to play—if you're no better resource for leisure, and if nonparticipation isolates you too completely from other idiots—play the imbecile gentleman's game, which means a game where nobody need worry over the stakes."

"But—they'd laugh at me!"

"I know. But Boots Lansing would not, and you have considerable respect for him."

Gerald nodded. He had immediately succumbed to Lansing like everybody else.

"And one thing more," said Selwyn. "Don't play for stakes—no matter how indulgent—where women sit in the game. Fashionable or not, it is rotten sport, whatever the ethics may be. And, Gerald, until sport and a clean record can't take the same fence together."

A little later the boy started for home at Selwyn's advice. But the memory of his card losses frightened him, and he stopped on the way to see what money Austin would advance him.

Julius Neergard came up from Long Island, arriving at the office about noon. The weather was evidently cold on Long Island. He had the complexion of a raw ham, but the thick, fat hand, with the bitten nails, which he offered Selwyn as he entered his office, was unpleasantly hot, and on the thin nose, which split the broad expanse of face, a bead or two of sweat usually glistened, winter and summer.

"Water?" repeated Selwyn wonderfully. "Why, it's dry as a desert!"

"Underground water—only about forty feet on the average. Why, man, I can hit a well flowing 3,000 gallons almost anywhere. It's a gold mine. I don't care what you do with the water—split it up into lots and advertise or club the Slowthin people into submission, it's all the same; it's a gold mine, to be swiped and developed. Now, there remain the title searching and the job of financing it, because we've got to move cautiously and knock softly at the doors of the money vaults, or we'll be walking up some Wall street relatives or secret business associates of the yellow crowd, and if anybody bows for help we'll be up in the air next New Year's and still kicking skyward."

Neergard's thin, mouse-like eyes, set close together, shone brightly in Selwyn's direction, but they usually looked just a little past, man, seldom at reality, and when he spoke he sounded slightly.

"But the point is," continued Neergard, "that it borders the railroad on the north, and where the land is not waste it's flat as a pancake, and it's a hilly bank—hilly bank—why, captain, I suppose we could let them have the land. Eh? Oh, yes, if they must have it!"

Selwyn frowned slightly.
